Michael Griffin can visit your school at the beginning of 2012 and help you deliver a training program designed to:

- Encourage teachers to reflect on the nature of learning and teaching, and on their individual pedagogy.
- Facilitate discussion and the sharing of ideas among a group of professionals who often work in isolation
- Foster curiosity and reflection with the latest neuro-scientific and psychological findings and research relevant to music learning. This includes:
 - The truth about expertise
 - Nature v Nurture
 - Fixed V Growth Mindsets
 - The fundamentals of practise, skill development and deep learning
 - The significance of metacognition
 - Secrets of motivation and 'flow'
 - Teamwork and heroes
 - Fostering creativity
 - how to integrate these concepts into teaching

All this and more, presented in an enjoyable, entertaining and inspiring format.

Why Michael Griffin?

- An experienced provider of music education PD for staff. Invited speaker/presenter to schools and conferences in 25 countries. Testimonials available. For a full list of recent engagements, consult www.musiceducationworld.com

Clearly you made an impact -Eton College, Windsor, UK

Thank you so very much for the presentations you gave to both our Academic and Music Scholars. Your passion is infectious and you pitched the material just right to keep everyone engaged and entertained. We certainly hope you will be able to come again to inspire the next generation. -Cranleigh, UK

It was an excellent session and the boys still comment -The Hall School, UK

This talk was perfectly suited to our IGCSE and A Level music students. The information was presented clearly in an engaging, relaxed manner. -Garden, Malaysia

I am absolutely astonished at how much my students recall of your music seminar. -Upper Hutt, NZ

I particularly enjoyed our Keynote speaker Michael Griffin and wished I could have gone to all of his sessions. -ASME, Western Australia

Michael, I thought your workshop/lecture was the best one I attended at the ECIS 2010 (Nice, France) conference. MH-Oman
